The Most Honourable Paul Martin – Prime Minister

Re: A 1st Class Public Health Care System for less than ½ of Current Costs

Sir;

we can have a 1st class, readily accessible, and fully funded public Health Care system for less than ½ of current expenditures. And we can have this as soon as within one year of initiation.

All the government needs to do is to mandate the presence of the complete range of the 72 natural trace elements in all agricultural soils - hence in all agricultural products, and hence in all of our daily food (when produced in Canada). Our current agriculture maintains 8 trace elements, leaving us deficient of 64 trace elements - the cause of well over 100 deadly and devastating diseases - [as the deficiency of the trace element iodine once caused goitre and cretinism - see attached Summary ].

Other than an information program, there is no other cost to the government, as private industry will provide the 72 trace element fertilizer, which can be readily obtained from seawater.

Within 3 months of this food becoming widely available, there will be a massive reduction in the incidence and number of many cancers (breast, colon, prostate, lung, and so forth), in the incidence and number of practically all autoimmune diseases (diabetes, arthritis, lupus, and so forth), many physiological and mental diseases (MS, ALS, ADD, AD/HD, Bipolar, Alzheimer's, and so forth), many cardiovascular diseases, many viral diseases, and many other deadly and chronic diseases.

The federal and provincial Health Care costs will consequently and immediately undergo a massive and dramatic reduction - to less than ½ of current expenditures (from the current $130 billion annually to about 40 - to 50 billion per year, or less).

The provision of the 72 natural trace elements fertilizer will also result in a massive reduction of plant diseases, hence in a massive reduction of agricultural poisons, and consequently, in another substantial improvement of our personal and public health - and of our environment.

It will also result in a massive reduction of animal diseases (mad cow, hoof & mouth, scrapie, and so forth).

Upon invitation from the University of Geneva, I had presented this information at the

8th International Conference in Systems Science in Health Care
[in partnership with the World Health Organisation]
at the University of Geneva, September 1 - 4, 2004

May it be known and fully understood [!!!] that my submission had been scrutinized and approved first by the Program Committee consisting of 38 health researchers in 38 countries, and again, by the Scientific Committee consisting of 11 Professors of Medicine at 4 Universities.
 see [www.unige.ch/formcont/icsshc/organisation\_en.html ].

Be it fully understood then that this information had been approved by 49 highly accredited Health experts for publication and presentation at the highest international level of a World Health Conference.

This government now has two choices:

1) To ignore this information, and continue in a progressively increasing spiral of deadly and devastating diseases (30 new diseases in the last 20 years) as the cause of most diseases which plague us now remains unchecked - accompanied by an endless spiral of increasing health care costs.

To acquire the liability of the government for not implementing a supremely effective remedy for the above mentioned diseases when so informed and failing to make it available - as the compensation to victims infected by tainted blood transfusions with Hepatitis C demonstrates - when a screening method was available.

2) On the other hand, this government can take world leadership in the cure and elimination of many cancers and a large number of other deadly and devastating diseases not only in humans, but in livestock and crops as well.

As all natural foods - such as all food from the sea, and all natural food growing on soils which have never been cultivated - contain the complete range of the 72 natural trace elements, the mandate that all agricultural soils must contain the 72 natural trace elements is nothing more than a restoration of natural conditions, but the improvement in personal and public health is immediate, dramatic and immense. The natural presence of the 72 trace elements in all living organisms can be easily and very quickly verified by the analysis of plant and animal tissue from completely natural (never cultivated) environments.

The supreme effectiveness of the complete range of the 72 natural trace elements our in daily nutrition for the cure, prevention and elimination of many diseases can be easily and quickly verified by putting let's say a dozen people with rheumatoid arthritis, and a dozen people with MS, or leukemia, on a daily seafood diet (for the 72 natural trace elements) for 3 months - and documenting the results. Rheumatoid arthritis is particularly well suited as the dramatic improvements are perfectly visible to anyone.

Executive Summary

The quick and highly effective cure and prevention of many cancers, many incurable physiological, neurological, cardiovascular, late-onset, auto-immune, degenerative and chronic diseases, influenza, many allergies and birth defects, by natural nutritional means

BACKGROUND:

Since 7/8 of the 4 billion year long evolution of life occurred in the seas, and only 1/8 of its span occurred on land, we have inherited an absolute dependency upon the complete range of the 72 natural trace elements, as found in the seas, in all of our daily food for our physical and mental health.

However, our modern agriculture knows of and maintains only 8 trace elements in its soils and products, and hence, in practically all of our daily food. Due to this 150 year-long neglect, over 60 natural trace elements have become severely deficient or exhausted in all chemically farmed soils, and hence in our daily food.

CAUSE:

This massive trace element deficiency in our daily food is the direct cause of a great number of diseases such as, but not limited to, breast, colon, prostate and lung cancers, leukemia, lupus, MS, ALS, Alzheimer's, ADD, ADHD, bi-polar, heart & cardiovascular diseases, arthritis, diabetes, edema, arteriosclerosis, osteoporosis, herpes, influenza, many allergies and birth defects.

REMEDY:

Just as effectively as iodine supplementation eliminates goitre and cretinism, restoring the 72 natural trace elements in all of our daily food eliminates and prevents a wide range of diseases, as mentioned above. This is due to the over 60 neglected trace elements involved, and to the myriad vital functions many trace elements perform - as zinc does in the formation of transcription factors - in the normal function of our metabolism and immune systems.

Today, the only readily available food in the industrialized nations which still contains the complete natural range of the 72 nutritional trace elements is seafood, and a daily serving of seafood cures and prevents a wide range of diseases, as mentioned above – and as it does among the Japanese. These results – usually within 100 days - can be obtained by anyone, any place, anytime.

However, this is only a stop-gap remedy, and the only valid long-term solution is the restitution and maintenance of the 72 natural trace elements - which can be readily obtained from the sea - in all agricultural soils, and hence, in all of our daily food.

PROOF:

Living proof is provided by the dramatically lower incidence of many cancers, neurological, cardiovascular, late-onset, degenerative and chronic diseases among over four billion people - among them the Japanese, Chinese, Singhalese, the people of India and of many other undeveloped nations. Among the latter, the major factor is the return of all life wastes, and with them the 72 trace elements, to the soil - in a perpetual cycle from soil to produce to people to soil again.

OUTCOME:

A massive increase in public and personal health– and a massive reduction of health care costs.
